

STUDENT PRIVACY NOTICE

(PROCESSING YOUR PERSONAL DATA)

Please read this information before you enrol

This privacy notice establishes the University's procedures governing the collection and release of student information and is provided to students at the application and enrolment stages.

General

The University needs to collect, process and use personal data (information) for a variety of purposes about those who express an interest in becoming a student of the University (prior to application and enrolment stage), those who become enrolled students of the University

Changes to this privacy notice

It is important that you check this privacy notice for updates. It is likely that this notice will undergo further revision ahead of the introduction of the GDPR. If we make changes that we consider to be important, we will let you know by contacting you using the contact details you have provided to us.

The types of personal information we collect

The University collects and processes information relating to its students, including images, personal details, family and social circumstances, education and training records and financial details for various academic, administrative and health and safety reasons. The University may collect, hold and process what may be considered 'sensitive personal data' as described under the DPA and 'special category personal data' as described under the GDPR.

Sensitive and special category personal data is generally defined as information related to racial or ethnic origin, political opinions, religious or other beliefs, physical or mental health, other medical information including biometric and genetic data. In some instances, the University will also collect and process criminal offence data relating to criminal allegations, proceedings, convictions or related security measures.

Not all of the personal information the University holds about you will come directly from you. It may, for example, come from other organisations to which you belong or professional service providers. We also collect personal information from third parties such as collaborative partner organisations, service providers offering services provided by the University, for example student recruitment representatives, Student Finance England and UCAS.

Where we store and process personal information

The University is a global institution and in certain circumstances the University may transfer student personal information to third parties located in countries outside of the European Economic Area. Any such transfers will be strictly in relation to the delivery of the University's core services. For example, transfers of student educational information to collaborative partner institutions abroad, IT services used by the University may involve the transfer or hosting of student personal data overseas or personal information may be shared with international agents that the University uses for the delivery of services to overseas students. All instances of overseas transfers of personal data are subject to appropriate and adequate safeguards and contractual provisions incorporating appropriate assurances to ensure the security of the information and compliance with legislative and regulatory requirements.

The European Commission decisions on the adequacy of the protection of personal data in third countries are published here: ec.europa.eu/justice/data-protection/international-transfers/adequacy/index_en.

How we secure personal information

The University takes data security seriously and uses appropriate technologies and

Article 6 (1)(d) for the purpose of protecting the vital interest of yourself or another – sometimes in extreme circumstances the University will have to release information to protect your interests or the interests of others e.g. in medical emergencies.

Article 6 (1)(e) processing necessary for the performance of a task carried in the public interest – the University is an educational establishment and in particular its educational activity is conducted in a public interest (including your interest and the interest of others).

Article 6 (1)(f) processing is necessary for the purposes of the legitimate interest of the University or a third party subject to overridden interests of the data subject – the University (and sometimes third parties) has a broad legitimate interest in activities that connect to the activities and education of students. Subject to those interests not being overridden by the interests of fundamental rights and freedoms of students, it will pursue those interests. A good example of this legitimate interest would be its Alumni activities. Where Article 6(1)(f) is used the “legitimate interest” is generally the interest of the University (or third party) in providing or supporting the provision of higher education to its students.

Article 22(2)(a) automated decision making necessary for performance of a contract – the University will sometimes automate decisions relating to its services it is providing to you.
